

Prof Eberhart F. Mammen

Nejat Akar

Department of Pediatric Molecular Genetics Of Ankara University, Ankara, Turkey

An internationally renowned authority Prof Eberhart F. Mammen passed away in recent days. He made numerous contributions to the field of coagulation. He was an editorial board member of the 'New İstanbul Contribution to Clinical Science' for years which in turn named as 'Turkish Journal of Hematology'. He was also a board member of Turkish Journal of Hematology between the years 1995-2005.

His contributions to hematology will be remembered.

---

Erratum

The addresses of the institutions of the authors of the paper titled "Use of gemtuzumab ozogamicin in the treatment of pediatric relapsed/refractory acute myleoid leukemia" which was published in Turkish Journal of Hematology Volume:25 Issue:1 Pages 36-41 were printed wrong due to the wrong information given by the authors. We correct and apologize.

Use of gemtuzumab ozogamicin in the treatment of pediatric relapsed/refractory acute myleoid leukemia
Vol.:25 Issue:1 Page 36-41

Elif Unal, Indira Sahdev

Division of Pediatric Hematology/Oncology and Stem Cell Transplantation, Schneider Children's Hospital, Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Long Island Jewish Medical Center, New Hyde Park, NY 11040, USA.
elifunal@msn.com

---

Acknowledgements

The acknowledgement of the paper titled "Clonal evolution of monosomy 7 in acquired severe aplastic anemia: Two cases treated with allogeneic hematopoietic stem cell transplantation" which was published in Turkish Journal of Hematology Volume 25, Issue 2 Pages 94-97 were not printed. We correct and apologize.

Clonal evolution of monosomy 7 in acquired severe aplastic anemia: Two cases treated with allogeneic hematopoietic stem cell transplantation Vol.: 25, Issue:2 Pages: 94-97

Acknowledgement: We thank Professor Isinsu Kuzu for reviewing the pathology samples and obtaining pictures for publication.